WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

DEAL EXTENDED: West Germany has agreed to buy $1.3 billion in U. S. equipment and services over two years.

The agreement, initiated in Bonn by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and German Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel, extended through fiscal 1965 the program under which Germany makes U. S. purchases of about $650 million a year.

The program is considered important to the American effort to bring in money from abroad to balance against the heavy U. S. spending overseas.

McNamara returned to Washington Monday after a week in Germany.

MORE TIME: Congress has decided to give the National Cultural Center trustees three more years to raise some $30 million by public subscription.

The initial five-year period expires Sept. 2 with only $10 million raised to build the center.

But the House completed congressional action on the reprieve by a 233-33 vote Monday.

The bill, which now goes to the White House, also raises the number of trustees from 15 to 30.

CHURCH SCHOOLS: Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., said today the Kennedy administration supports restricted federal aid to church-related schools.

Ribicoff cited in a prepared Senate speech a July 3 letter from Francis Keppel, commissioner of education, that it is his view there should be "federal financial assistance to private education at all levels, using such means as are generally agreed to be constitutional."

There is a general misunderstanding, Ribicoff said, that President Kennedy opposed aid to parochial schools as unconstitutional. But he said what Kennedy opposes is across-the-board aid and not assistance given to such projects as the building of a chemistry laboratory.

Hitchhiker Stabs Detroit Officer

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit policeman reported today he was stabbed in the back by a hitchhiker as he returned home from duty.

John Balogh, 32, was treated at a hospital and released. He told detectives he picked up a hitchhiker on his way home from work. Balogh said he had driven about one block when the hitchhiker announced a holdup. When Balogh who wore plain clothes, told him he was a police officer, the man pulled a knife and stabbed him in the back. Balogh said the man fled on foot.

Democrats Agree That Michigan Needs New Taxes

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney and most Democratic legislators apparently were agreed today that Michigan needs new taxes, but the unanswered questions remain — how much, on whom and in what fashion?

Romney broke bread Monday with the Democrats in a five-hour closed-door meeting at a Detroit hotel at which he outlined his eight suggested tax reform programs and then asked for suggestions.

The programs, first unveiled by the governor last June, include possible ways of easing the tax burden on business while meeting the expected $60 million increase in next year's general fund budget.

Income Levy Included
Nearly all of the plans include a state income tax, ranging from two to three per cent on individuals and two to six per cent on corporations.

Romney's approach with the Democrats was the same one he has used in recent meetings with Republican lawmakers. He is scheduled to meet with more Democrats today and wind up the fiscal talks at a three-day session with GOP legislative tax leaders at Mackinac Island beginning Wednesday.

If a revamping of Michigan's tax structure is to take place, it appears certain that at least some Democratic votes will be needed because of a lack of unanimity among Republicans.

The governor told newsmen the meetings have convinced him that there is a broad recognition among both Republicans and Democrats of the need for tax reform in the state.

Package Deal Awaited
Romney said it was unfortunate that so much attention had been focused on the suggestion for a state income tax.

"The need for tax reform is far greater than the question of any particular tax," he declared.

The chief goal, he added, is to create a better tax climate for business, thus encouraging industry to locate in Michigan.

There also is a need to provide tax relief for local governments, he said.

Romney said he heard at least two new ideas from the Democrats that had not been put forward earlier in his series of meetings with Republican legislators.

But he refused to say what the ideas were, except that one concerned a possible new source of revenue and the other a new area in need of tax relief.

Spokesmen for the Democrats expressed disappointment that Romney has not announced the specific plan for tax reform he will present to the special session of the legislature next month.

Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski said: "Most Democrats are anxious to get at a specific package, so they can make specific suggestions. The Democrats fairly well agree with the governor of the need for fiscal reform."

"The situation can develop into something much more serious and more grave than it ever was in the past if we fail to deal with it this fall."

Test Ban Treaty Goes To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said today President Kennedy plans to send the nuclear test ban treaty to the Senate this week, probably Thursday, and hearings on it will begin Monday.

Mansfield reported the schedule after he and other Democratic congressional leaders had their weekly White House breakfast.

He said the plan is for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to hear State Department witnesses Monday, Defense Department witnesses Tuesday and Atomic Energy Commission witnesses Wednesday.

Mansfield said the Foreign Relations Committee, headed by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., will give expeditious consideration to the treaty.

Fulbright was among six senators who witnessed the formal signing of the treaty in Moscow Monday.

House speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said the leadership told Kennedy the tax bill is going along very fast in the House Ways and Means Committee.

Council Suspends Pontiac Manager

PONTIAC (AP)—Robert Stierer, city manager of Pontiac since 1961, was suspended Monday by the City Commission pending a hearing Aug. 26.

The commission voted, 6-1, to suspend Stierer after charging him with incompetence and refusing to fire Police Chief Joseph Koren.

Ceremony Marks Anniversary Of Hiroshima Bomb

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—The people of Hiroshima paused today to mourn the victims of history's first atom bomb attack, made on their city 18 years ago today. But they took heart from the signing of the partial nuclear test ban treaty in Moscow.

At 8:15 a.m.—the exact time that the American B29 "Enola Gay" dropped the bomb on Aug. 6, 1945 — a swarm of doves wheeled into the air and the Hiroshima peace bell began its sorrowful toll.

A crowd of 15,000 stood with bowed heads for a minute of silence before the simple, arched memorial to the city's atomic dead.

Mayor Shinzo Hamai, dressed in black, referred to the Moscow treaty in his memorial address, expressing "great gratification that at long last a pact for the partial banning of nuclear weapons has been concluded by the United States, the United Kingdom and the Soviet Union."

The memorial ceremony was brief and restrained, in marked contrast to the confusion and political bickering which broke up the opening Monday night of the Communist-dominated ninth world conference against hydrogen and atom bombs.

Delegates from Red China, Soviet Russia and many other countries were present at the commemoration today, but they were relegated to the background.

Americans Set Trap In Korea

WITH U. S. 1ST CAVALRY DIVISION, Korea (AP) — A heavy American force set up ambush positions in the demilitarized zone Monday night and withdrew at dawn today without contacting any Communist North Korean troops.

The combat-ready Americans went into position at dusk Monday. They set up three traps for Communist patrols that have been striking into United Nations territory and on occasions launching strong attack on U. S. units.

The exact number of American troops involved was classified. But the U. S. force is known to have been much larger than the small patrols that normally guard the U. S. sector of the 151-mile truce line established after the Korean War.

It is obvious that the U. S. command is determined to stop all North Korean movement—by large Red forces or small units—into what the 1953 armistice agreement termed U. N. territory.

Orders were given that the American force hold its fire until Communist troops moved in close.

Russians Launch Earth Satellite

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today launched another Cosmos earth satellite, an unmanned scientific research vehicle.

The launching was announced by Moscow Radio. It said this was No. 19 in the series of satellites which began going up in March 1962.

Manistee Youth Drinks Fifth Of Whisky And Dies

MANISTEE (AP)—State police said today they expect an arrest shortly in the death of a 16-year-old Manistee youth who died within 15 minutes Sunday after downing a fifth of whisky because he "felt like drinking."

Cpl. David Feldkamp said: "We think we know the man who furnished the liquor."

Dennis L. Darling, on a beach party with four or five other teenagers at Canfield Lake, was pronounced dead on arrival at a Manistee hospital shortly after midnight Sunday.

Feldkamp said the youth's companions told of his drinking the fifth and becoming sick. The coroner said a blood test showed an alcoholic reading of .38. A person with a reading of .15 is considered by state police too drunk to drive.

Stage Collapses At Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—An integrated variety show, which kicked up a controversy before it even came to town, ended abruptly Monday night when part of a makeshift stage collapsed.

Negro singer Johnny Mathis was in mid-song when about one-fourth of the platform crumpled and the lights went out during a civil rights fund-raising performance by members of the American Guild of Variety Artists.

Murmurs of concern rose from the large crowd, which included about 100 white persons.

"What's happened? What's going on?" some asked, perhaps thinking of racial troubles which rocked this Southern city in April and May.

Two spectators were treated for injuries.

The show was resumed after a delay of about an hour.

The show was held at the football field of Mike C. Hege, a privately endowed Negro institution.

AGVA had tried to engage the Municipal Auditorium, but gave up after a heated exchange of telegrams with city officials. The city said the auditorium was not available because it was being renovated.

The platform appeared sturdy enough to hold the performers and bands, but was apparently strained under the added weight of some spectators who sat on the edge.

Alabama Pupils Study The Bible

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Alabama public school children will be required to take a course in the Bible under a ruling of the State Board of Education.

In practice, however, there will be little change, if any, from current Bible-reading requirements.

The board's order to put Bible-reading in the required course of study came Monday as a result of a recent U. S. Supreme Court ruling.

The court barred reading of the scriptures and recital of the Lord's Prayer as part of required classroom exercises, but did not rule out reading the Bible as part of the course of study.

Guerrilla Force Of 500 Lands, Captures Towns

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—A report circulated here today that a band of Haitian exile invaders, aiming to topple the terrorist regime of dictator Francois (Papa Doc) Duvalier, have captured Cap Haitien, Haiti's second largest city. The report was unconfirmed.

Cap Haitien, a port city of 25,000, is 90 miles north of Port Au Prince, Haiti's capital.

Duvalier, the voodoo-preaching physician turned strongman, acknowledged Monday night there was an invasion on Haiti's north coast.

The Dominican frontier forces and navy were alerted after news of the invasion and Haiti charged that some of the invaders came from adjoining Dominican Republic, which shares the island of Hispaniola with Haiti.

Officials Flee
Dominican President Juan Bosch conferred with his armed forces chiefs at the national palace.

The newspaper Listin Diario reported that a number of Haitian officials have crossed into the Dominican Republic seeking asylum. Some Haitian soldiers also reportedly fled across the border.

Haitian exile sources in Santo Domingo said at least 500 well-armed men, trained for guerrilla warfare, landed Monday at Fort Liberté, 18 miles east of Cap Haitien, and quickly captured the towns of Fort Liberté, Derac, Trou and Limonade.

There were rumors that another force of exiles landed on Haiti's long coast in the night.

Cap Haitien was placed on a war footing and a curfew imposed.

Reports reaching here said American families were evacuated to Cap Haitien from the U. S.-owned Dauphin Island plantation on the orders of the Duvalier government. The plantation lies near Fort Liberté, about 3 miles west of the Dominican border.

A news source in Port au Prince said Monday night little was known in public there except that a rebel force apparently was fighting the Haitian army in the north. Censors barred correspondents from sending out news by cable.

Second Term Illegal
Gen. Leon Cantave, chief of the Haitian armed forces for five months in 1957, led the invasion under the banner of the National Democratic Union. Cantave told an interviewer recently he was not interested in becoming president, only in ousting Duvalier.

Paul Verna, a former Haitian diplomat representing the National Democratic Union, said an unidentified island off the coast was used as a staging area for the invasion. Some of the invaders were identified as former Haitian army officers who had been living in Santo Domingo.

Verna said the rebels expect to form a military-civilian provisional government in north Haiti.

Cantave, a career officer, became chief of the Haitian army in December 1956 after the overthrow of President Paul E. Magloire. He quit on May 25, 1957, to avoid involvement in his country's turbulent politics, and has been in exile for six years.

Duvalier, 54, a Negro country doctor, became president of Haiti in 1957. He has survived strikes,

Ministers Study East-West Action To Ease Tensions

MOSCOW (AP)—Foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union worked on plans for new East-West settlements today following the historic signing of a partial nuclear test ban.

When U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home left their morning conference with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, a crowd of 500 outside the skyscraper Foreign Ministry applauded them excitedly.

The Muscovites mood reflected the optimistic glow with which the whole Soviet press greeted the nuclear ban and contrasted with the grim silence which has usually confronted Western statesmen here.

New Steps Considered
The three drove to a villa in the Lenin Hills to continue over lunch their exploratory talks intended to find out whether the nuclear ban had created a breakthrough in East-West relations that could lead to new peace moves.

Among the steps considered was Premier Khrushchev's demand for a NATO-Warsaw treaty non-aggression pact.

"We discussed matters of mutual interest relating to international problems," Rusk told newsmen.

Top Men On Hand
Rusk was accompanied to the conference by Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations; William C. Foster, director of the American Disarmament Agency; Ambassador Foy D. Kohler, and Charles Stelle,

U. S. representative to the Geneva disarmament conference.

The conference was to continue through lunch at the official reception house in the Lenin Hills, the building where Chinese and Soviet delegates held their abortive meetings last month on the Peking-Moscow ideological dispute.

Members of the U. S. Senate delegation who accompanied Rusk to Moscow were guests today of Soviet parliamentary leaders in the Kremlin. They will return to Washington Wednesday.

Khrushchev Optimistic
The test ban treaty—pledging to abstain from nuclear weapon tests in the atmosphere, outer space and under water — was signed by the foreign ministers Monday. Soviet Premier Khrushchev called it the "first sprouts of international confidence" and said his government "would do everything in its power for these sprouts to develop and gain in strength."

Rusk and Lord Home made similar pledges but neither laid any special emphasis on particular East-West issues remaining to be settled.

Khrushchev, however, repeated his call for an East-West non-aggression pact "to show all the peoples that the militarily most powerful states . . . have reached agreement among themselves with the aim of evading thermonuclear war."

Khrushchev was expected to leave Moscow today for a Black Sea vacation. He has invited Rusk to visit his seaside dacha, and the U. S. secretary will probably fly down to Gagra, on the Soviet Riviera, on Thursday.

Rail Management Meets Unions At Bargaining Table

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time in weeks, railroad and union representatives face each other today across the bargaining table, a sign that negotiators believe they have chipped an opening in the deadlock over jobs.

"In another 24 to 48 hours, we should know whether we're shadow-boxing or really making progress," J. E. Wolfe, the carriers' chief negotiator, said Monday night.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz called today's joint meetings after lengthy sessions Monday with each side.

He refused, however, to say whether any progress had been made.

Meetings were set up between the carriers and the representatives of the engine crews—engineers and firemen—and between the carriers and the train crew unions — conductors, brakemen and switchmen.

Wirtz said he would be on hand for both but also has to appear before a closed session of the House Commerce Committee which is keeping an eye on negotiations while studying President Kennedy's legislative recommendations for settling the work rules dispute.

To avert a strike over new work rules—designed to eliminate thousands of rail jobs, principally those of diesel freight firemen—Kennedy suggested turning the dispute over to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The unions strongly opposed the Kennedy plan, calling the ICC management-oriented. The carriers supported it.

To give Congress time to act, the carriers postponed the new work rules until Aug. 29.

The Senate committee received a statement Monday from the railroads which was termed a supplemental rebuttal to union arguments against the President's proposals.

"The parties are at an impasse and the national interest is threatened," said the statement. It said some action must be taken and only the legislative branch can take it.

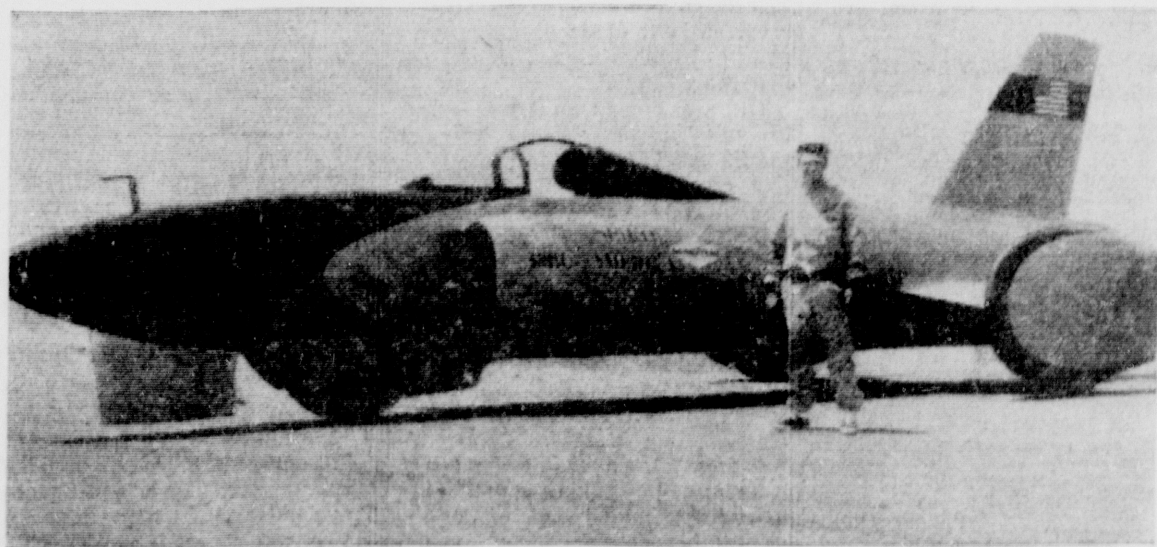

The railroads charged that the unions oppose the administration bill "because it will accomplish exactly what they meticulously and methodically avoided for 4½ years, settlement of the dispute."

A Labor Department spokesman said Monday's sessions concerned the dispute's two chief issues: the firemen's jobs and the make-up of train crews.

Eisenhower Visits Normandy Beaches

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP) —Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower sailed today on a sentimental journey to the beaches of Normandy—scene of one of the greatest moments of his career as supreme Allied commander in Europe in World War II.

Eisenhower sailed in the British destroyer Gurkha to feature in a television film being made for the 20th anniversary celebrations next year of the historic 1944 landings.

Craig Breedlove poses beside his jet-powered tricycle in which he set a speed record of 408 miles an hour. Historians Meet At Sault Friday

The 14th annual Upper Peninsula History Conference will be held this year at Sault Ste. Marie, Aug. 9-10. Host is the Chippewa County Historical Society.

Co-chairmen of this year's U. P. conference are George A. Osborn and Donald Finlayson. Conference headquarters will be the First National Bank.

The program for the conference starts on Friday afternoon, Aug. 9, with registration followed by a tour of historic Sault Ste. Marie. The conference dinner will be held at Sault Ste. Marie Country Club.

Dr. Philip P. Mason will speak on "Schoolcraft and the Indian Agency of the Upper Lakes," and an award will also be given to the Drummond Island Historical Society by the Historical Society of Michigan for the society's "significant work, study, and appreciation of the local history of the island and for productive efforts to preserve the physical remains of previous occupations of Drummond Island."

On Saturday the Upper Peninsula historical societies will report their activities and visit the Canadian Sault. Starting from the American side at 11:30 a. m., the conference participants will cross the International Bridge and have luncheon at the Windsor Hotel. The Sault Ste. Marie (Canada) Historical Society will conduct a tour of the Canadian Sault. A visit to the Armories, a look at the Ermatinger House, and at other historic sites, and the dedication of a plaque by the Ontario Department of Travel and Publicity will fill the afternoon's program.

Toadstools Stolen

C&NW Performs Big Altering Job On 1,000 Ore Cars

One of the biggest ore car alterations jobs in a long time is under way in the Chicago & North Western Railway repair yards at Escanaba, where about 1,000 cars are getting their bottoms "lifted."

O. W. Brookes, C&NW trainmaster, said there are about 51 men employed now, compared to the usual car yard number of 35.

The North Western had about 1,000 ore cars of 50-ton capacity (newer cars are 70-ton) which were old and would have been too expensive to put in No. 1 condition, Brookes said.

Parts Exchanged

There was the opportunity to purchase 1,000 50-ton cars from the Duluth, Mesabi Iron Range and the C&NW bought them to replace the 1,000 they must send to the scrap pile.

At the car yards in Escanaba there began, under the direction of Alex St. Cyr, car foreman, the big job of scraping, salvaging and alterations that is now in full swing and probably will not be completed until next season.

Eventually all of the old 50-ton ore cars of the North Western will be scrapped, Trainmaster Brookes said.

The North Western has also purchased about 900 new roller bearing box cars, and steel wheels are needed for the roller bearing cars. The 1,000 ore cars bought by the North Western from the Duluth, Mesabi Iron Range have steel wheels.

So in the car yards here the steel wheels are being removed from the DMI ore cars to be used on the new roller bearing box cars; the iron wheels from old ore cars are being used to replace the wheels removed from the 1,000 DMI cars; and the 1,000 old C&NW ore cars are being cut up for scrap.

For Ore Shipping
There are hundreds of cars now in the yards as the work in the alterations and scrapping progresses. Some cars are being lifted by cranes for the removal of trucks and wheels; elsewhere there is the flash of torches as flame bites through the metal of the cars that are being cut up for scrap; and altogether the scene is one of the busiest in years at the car yards.

The North Western has the larger 70-ton ore cars as well as the 50-ton cars which are being altered in the present project. The smaller cars are not used for pellet ore haul because of their limited capacity. Pellet ore is comparatively light and therefore the larger cars are used for that purpose.

Ore shipments by the North Western out of Escanaba to Aug. 1 this year are somewhat below the total for the same period a year ago. Last year the total to Aug. 1 was 2,496,531 tons. This year it is 2,182,510.

There was 725,199 tons of ore shipped from Escanaba by the North Western in July this year, compared to 767,597 for the same month a year ago. A growing volume of ore is pelitized and is received here from the plant at Groveland near Iron Mountain.

The North Western has the larger 70-ton ore cars as well as the 50-ton cars which are being altered in the present project. The smaller cars are not used for pellet ore haul because of their limited capacity. Pellet ore is comparatively light and therefore the larger cars are used for that purpose.

Ore shipments by the North Western out of Escanaba to Aug. 1 this year are somewhat below the total for the same period a year ago. Last year the total to Aug. 1 was 2,496,531 tons. This year it is 2,182,510.

Research Finds New Paper Uses

Every ton of paper produced at the Escanaba Division mill of the Mead Corp. uses up about 1,800 pounds of green wood pulp. Escanaba Kiwanians were told Monday by Jerry L. Parr, Mead Corp. chemical engineer, who discussed operations of the local plant and its impact on the economy of the community.

The Escanaba mill turns out 87,000 tons of paper a year in a variety of grades and colors, mostly for publications, books and catalogs, and it comes off the rolls at the plant in 150 inch width at a rate of 1,600 feet per minute. In addition to the wood pulp, made of balsam, spruce and aspen from local forests, each ton of paper requires 580 pounds of dry pulp, 590 pounds of clay, 140 pounds of corn starch and 400 pounds of a variety of chemicals, including soap and epsom salts. For each ton there is also $45 worth of labor, one ton of coal, 475 KW of electricity and 9,000 gallons of water.

The payroll of the Mead mill here, Parr said, is around $4,000,000 annually and another million is spent for the purchase of pulpwood. Property taxes add about $240,000, and there is a transportation item of 5,500 railroad cars and 1,500 truckloads.

Research has brought in many new uses for special paper products. These include a new process paper of extremely high gloss, aluminum-coated paper for labeling and packaging, electronic reproduction of maps on paper, cans and containers of aluminum-coated paper which may expand to uses in the food and beverage industries, cloth made of paper for use as drapes, and disposable clothing made of paper. Parr displayed samples of paper and some of the new paper products now made here.

The program Monday was arranged by Ray McDonough.

Michigan State Proposes 4-Year Medical School

EAST LANSING (AP)—A blue ribbon education committee has recommended Michigan State University have a four-year medical school by 1975. An MSU spokesman reports.

Dr. Richard Byerrum, dean of the MSU College of Natural Science, made the report in a talk before an East Lansing service club. He said the recommendation was contained in a preliminary report by a committee named by the Coordinating Council for Michigan Higher Public Education.

Michigan now has four-year medical schools at the University of Michigan and Wayne State University. Some legislators and representatives of the two other universities have been opposed to MSU also branching into the four-year medical field.

Byerrum said the committee named by the Coordinating Council has recommended a third four-year medical school be established in Michigan between 1970 and 1975 as an expansion of Michigan State's two-year medical program to start in the fall of 1965.

New Satellite Relays Photos

NEW YORK (AP)—Three news stories and two photographs were bounced off the new Syncom II communications satellite Sunday night in its first test to relay such transmissions between continents.

The transmissions were between the United States and Nigeria, Africa.

Syncom project officials said results were excellent. The U.S. transmissions were sent from a government facility at Lakehurst, N.J. They were bounced off the satellite, 22,823 miles above the earth, and received by the communications ship Kingsport in the Lagos harbor.

Two U.S. wire services each provided a 300-word story for the test. The stories moved at the regular teletype speed of 60 words per minute and each transmission was completed in five minutes.

A head-and-shoulder photograph of President Kennedy also was relayed to Lagos.

From Nigeria, a 300-word press communique and a photograph of Nigerian Gov. Gen. Nnamdi Azikiwe were sent via Syncom II to Lakehurst.

The story provided by one U.S. wire service, The Associated Press, was relayed again, from the ship Kingsport to AP subscribers in Nigeria via its Lagos bureau. The story told of the Syncom II test.

United Press International also participated in the test.

New Election Rulings Asked

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has been asked to rule on a series of questions dealing with the election schedule for state and local officials under the new constitution.

The queries were posed by Rep. Russell Strange, R-Clare, chairman of the legislative sub-committee named to handle election problems.

Strange noted the Constitution provides that the first election of a governor for a four-year term shall be held in the general election of 1966. The Constitution also provides for the election of a sheriff, county clerk, county treasurer, register of deeds and prosecuting attorney in each county for four-year terms.

The attorney general was asked to rule if the county officers should be elected at the same time and on the same ballot as the governor.

If they should be elected on the same ballot with the governor, Strange asked if the legislature could provide for a general election for the county officials in 1964 for two-year terms in order to bring their terms into conformity in preparation for the first four-year election in 1964.

Strange also asked if the terms of such public officials as supreme court judges and judges of the circuit and probate courts, elected county officials and University of Michigan regents, Michigan State University trustees and Wayne State University governors should continue in office after Jan. 1, 1964 until their successors are elected.

Malicious Prank Brings Jail To Two Young Men

Two youths are in jail today after pleading guilty to charges of malicious destruction of property when arraigned in Justice A. J. Mortier's court at Gladstone. One of the youths is also convicted of simple larceny.

They are: William R. Dahn, 19, of Brampton, who was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and to make restitution for damages related to malicious destruction of property. He pleaded guilty to throwing a flower pot through a screen door at the Frank McIntyre home, 1515 Wisconsin Ave., on Sunday.

Thomas Coppock, 20, of 316 N. 17th St., Gladstone, with Dahn in the malicious destruction prank, was sent to jail for 10 days when he failed to pay a fine of $20.

Kennedy And A R A

The current attack on President Kennedy by Southern senators and congressmen over his civil rights stand has assumed proportions that aren't apparent on the surface of news from Washington.

It is a much easier and safer political maneuver to defeat the President's civil rights program obliquely than directly; to reject his program in other areas unless he drops his fight for equal rights for Negroes. This maneuver can give the color of fiscal interest or some other consideration to a contest which is essentially concerned with morals.

This situation is one of the perils for extension of the Area Redevelopment Administration program. There are other reasons for which ARA funds are being opposed, of course. Congressman Victor Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) has been critical of ARA and certainly he's not a segregationist, but brings an honest opposition to the debate on its future.

That ARA has used its full quota of fumbles appears evident, and it is acknowledged in the plan to remove from the proposed ARA extension funds for motels and other ventures difficult to justify as economic stimulants.

The Upper Peninsula has been made fully eligible for the maximum benefits of the ARA program because of its lagging economy. The program has been active in the Upper Peninsula and it has been helpful and holds forth the promise of being more so. The Upper Peninsula projects which it has sponsored have been well considered economically and not boondoggles.

Conservative financing looks upon agencies like ARA with a jaundiced eye, but the public will want to know what will substitute for ARA in large scale U.P. recreational developments, for instance, if ARA is washed up? The Upper Peninsula's county governments have endorsed the program unanimously by developing economic plans for its consideration and they have created the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems, which has been given a technical aid mission by ARA that has been very helpful to U.P. economic planning.

The Upper Peninsula should welcome reform in ARA that will keep it in the channel intended for it, but killing of the program would leave a vacuum in U.P. economic development that would not be fully felt until it happened.

Affluence And Alcohol

Somewhat like mental illness, alcoholism was for long decades a problem consigned to the shadows.

The victims turned up in "drunk tanks" at the jails, in grim hospital wards, in "save a soul" missions in skid rows everywhere. It was a problem to hide, to keep secret, to attach heavy stigma to in "polite" society.

While this view of alcoholism lingers in some places, since World War II far more thoughtful attention and study is being given the problem by a host of interested parties.

Alcoholics today are generally regarded as sick people, needing medical, psychiatric and social help. Doctors, academicians and various kinds of social specialists are mounting an attack.

Comparative figures do not exist which would permit one to say whether alcoholism has increased proportionately in recent times. Certainly the awareness of it — and the fuller reporting — have risen.

We can make a fairly accurate guess that there are more than five million alcoholics in the United States today — most of them not on skid row but in some aspect or other of respectable society.

The National Council on Alcoholism estimates that some $430 million a year is lost in wages by alcoholics through absenteeism resulting from excessive drinking. Many highly valued persons who have climbed high on the business ladder are lost at a time when they could be most useful.

The causes of alcoholism are many, varied and complex. The sources of trouble often lie deep in the human personality, or in subtle physical differences.

But such experts as Dr. Seldon Bacon, director of the Center of Alcohol Studies at Rutgers University, lay particular emphasis on the argument that the affluent society in America today offers heavy encouragement to potential alcoholics.

Not only is there more money for what is an expensive habit, but, says Bacon, the "drinking custom" is steadily being built into more and more parts of our daily life.

The cocktail party, the great general prevalence of partying, the long business lunch with liquid trimmings, these and many more things contribute to a significantly "permissive" atmosphere.

Such rituals will not capture the person who is physically not susceptible and has his problems under control. They can get the potential alcoholic started on his perilous road — and later give him cover for a habit that has gone beyond mere social drinking.

The specialists now suggest that unless a victim's friends and family realize this fact of the difficulty, "cures" given at the medical and psychiatric level may all too often fall short of performance. Vital help can come if those in the victim's circle will relieve him of the social pressures to conform, which so many feel today.

Michigan Upswing

Providence Evening Bulletin

Things are looking up in Michigan. The state which was troubled only three years ago by a near-empty treasury, payless paydays for state employees, lengthening lines of unemployed, and a chaos of political squabbling, now has turned the corner onto a sunnier course.

Detroit's jobless total stands at the lowest level in seven years. State revenues are running 72 million dollars ahead of the figure for the last fiscal year. The Legislature has wound up one of its most harmonious sessions in years.

Gov. Romney doesn't claim any exclusive credit for this remarkable turnaround in Michigan's affairs. He is, nevertheless, the chief political beneficiary of what has happened.

The biggest single factor contributing to Michigan's economic upsurge is the current boom in the automobile business. This is likely to be the biggest auto year since 1955. Since Michigan's economic fortune is tied intimately to the auto business, the boom in auto sales gives a mighty lift to the entire state.

Some of the other factors can be pinned more closely to the governor and his activities. . . . In an interview the other day Governor Romney ticked off some of the changes that have taken place. "There's an improved attitude within the state, and more confidence in the state and its future," he said.

That's a fair assessment of the situation in Michigan. If things continue to move along well between now and the summer of 1964, it's a political certainty that this state of affairs will be brought to the attention of the delegates at the GOP National Convention.

Washington Comment

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Australia's Labor party leader Arthur Calwell was able to match Irish ancestry with President John F. Kennedy when he called at the White House to pay his respects.

Calwell's grandfather migrated from Ireland to Australia about the same time Kennedy's grandfather migrated to America. The brother of Calwell's grandfather migrated to the United States and settled near Harrisburg, Pa.

The Australian political leader — who just missed becoming prime minister by one vote in the House of Representatives — hasn't been in the United States for 17 years. He stopped off in Pennsylvania to renew ties with his American cousins.

Army Chief of Staff Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, reminiscing before the American Legion convention in St. Louis, Mo., observed that: "Those of you who are army veterans will recall that your lot in war was determined largely by three ever-present factors: the enemy, the weather and the terrain."

"You may recall, also, that the enemy always seemed to occupy the high ground in positions that were difficult to locate; that the weather ran heavily to rain, heat or cold; and that the terrain over which you moved invariably tended to be uphill, consisting of

Gen. Jayanto Nath Chaudhuri, chief of staff of India's army, came to the United States at the invitation of American army officers who are advising him on equipment and training to hold back the Red Chinese. He picked June because it is the monsoon season back home.

But he hit Washington in a week of 95-degree temperatures with the humidity near the 100 percent mark. His observation: "It's worse than the monsoons." Asked what American military equipment India was buying, Gen. Chaudhuri replied: "Helicopters are no good at high altitudes. Trucks and Jeeps are no good in the mountains because there are no roads. But we've bought Missouri mules from almost every country that had any, except the United States."

The Doctor Says:

Tic Treatment Promising

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q—My doctor says I have trigeminal neuralgia, commonly called tic douloureux. He gave me an alcohol injection that relieved the pain for about a year. The pain has come back and my doctor says that aside from another injection the only treatment is to cut the nerve. However, I have heard that there is a new treatment. Please tell me about it.

A—Tic douloureux is a common and very painful ailment. Until recently destruction of the nerve was the only sure cure. Now there is another treatment. A woman with this disease was found to have no acid in her gastric juice. When she was given dilute hydrochloric acid her pain ceased. This led to the assumption that in hypersensitive or allergic persons a temporary or permanent disappearance of acid from the gastric juice might permit histamine or a related substance to pass from the stomach into the blood and be carried to the trigeminal nerve.

Working on this theory a series of patients with tic douloureux were given small but increasing injections of histamine in an effort to desensitize them. They were also given dilute hydrochloric acid. Those who had previously had boiling water injected into the nerve did not respond to the new treatment but the rest showed varying degrees of improvement.

at the National Draft-Goldwater-for-President rally in Washington to prove there were a few Negroes in attendance.

Commenting on the rally, NEA columnist Peter Edson had noted there were no Negroes inside the armory, an observation confirmed by a number of reporters covering the rally.

Hoosier Republican Rep. Richard Roudebush's newsletter lambasting a government expenditure of $21,000 to study the mating calls of toads got quite a response.

One constituent wrote Roudebush to ask: "Why not also study donkeys? Then the researchers wouldn't even have to leave Washington."

Potter's Wheel Whirrs At Local Ceramic Workshop

The Escanaba Area, noted for its devotion to the arts, is studying one of the less familiar local forms evenings this week in a workshop on ceramics at Escanaba Area High School.

The University of Michigan Extension Service is sponsor, Miss Anna Smith, a ceramist, is the teacher and the class of 15 has been filled and is at work nightly whacking away at 25 pounds of clay each and shaping it into bowls and other forms which will be fired and glazed in local kilns after Miss Smith and her companion, Miss Margaret Quimby of Eastern Michigan University, leave.

The Indians of this area made cord marked pottery before the coming of the white man. Their copper culture had faded and they were moving more into ceramics, making pots of native clays. The white pioneers chinked their first cabins with clay, and opened some clay beds for the making of bricks, as at Garth and on the Green Bay shore in Ingallston, but there was no potting trade here.

Miss Smith, a native of Virginia who got two degrees at Cranbrook Academy and who teaches ceramics for the University of Michigan at Grand Rapids and Ann Arbor, has spent a week each at Calumet, Iron Mountain, Marquette and now at Escanaba.

Most of her Upper Peninsula workshop members have been artists, most of them amateurs, who have had little or no experience in ceramics, but the interest created by the week-long schools is expected to leave a little trail of potter's wheels across the Peninsula and to send up some heat waves from pottery kilns to mix with the blue woodsmoke of fall from the studio fireplaces.

Miss Smith teaches design as well as ceramics, keeps the class small so she can give individual instruction in the preparation and shaping of clay into artistic and useful vases, bowls and other pieces. She and Miss Quimby spend their days learning about the Upper Peninsula. They're taking back samples of copper stamp sand, hematite and other materials which may be useful in the development of colors and other qualities in ceramics.

Some of the students had taken a bang at potting through mold work but this to ceramists is like number painting is to artists and they have now graduated into the lofty silicate hills of ceramics under guidance of Miss Smith.

Ceramics is one of the oldest occupations in the world. Egyptians made ceramic articles 5000 years before Christ. The trade ranges widely over pottery, building materials like bricks and tiles, furnace liners, grinding materials, glass, enamels and cements, but Miss Smith limits her class to beginning artwork in the medium. Clay must dry after potting before firing so Miss Smith will be gone and the class won't know if it passed until it sees what comes out of the kilns.

The Upper Peninsula's ceramic shops include Alice Reynolds' Sand Bay Studio at Eagle River, Gordon and Annegret Goehring's Northwind Pottery at Hessel, and

August Schroeder Of Engadine Dies

August Schroeder, 69, of Engadine died this morning at the Tahquamenon Hospital.

He was born in Germany on Nov. 11, 1893, and came to Engadine in 1902, where he resided the rest of his life. He was a retired farmer.

He was married to Melvina Winters on Nov. 7, 1917 in Engadine. He was a member of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church.

Surviving besides his wife are two sons, Theodore of Newberry and Edward of Engadine and one daughter, Miss Julia Schroeder of Engadine, six grandchildren, and one brother, William, of Engadine.

The body is at the Boileau Funeral Home and friends can call starting at 3 p.m. on Wednesday. The funeral will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. from the Bethlehem Lutheran Church with the Rev. O. H. Prauner officiating. Interment will take place in the Lutheran Cemetery in Engadine.

Columbia Bandits Knife 45 To Death

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Bandits herded 45 men into an abandoned farmhouse Monday and knifed them to death one by one. Two others survived.

The massacre occurred after an ambush on a country road near the town of La Victoria, 60 miles northwest of Bogota. The victims were 30 road workers traveling in three trucks and 15 men on a bus.

Straits History, Michigan's Arts Are TV Subjects

The Upper Peninsula is seeing itself, or at least its famed Straits of Mackinac area, on national television these mornings on NBC's Today Show.

The result is a familiar, flattering and sometimes a little trite, as when Hugh Downs asked a panel of Michigan's leaders in the arts what they thought of the old cliché that the Midwest was "culturally barren?"

Downs, a Midwesterner, thought states tend to develop their own cultures by their influences upon their artists; that Michigan had a great interest in its Indian past, had 35 symphony orchestras, the largest bird sanctuary, won three of the 1954 Pulitzer prizes, Bruce Catton, the Civil War historian, and Charles A. Lindbergh, were among the winners.

The artists on today's Today Show were Alden Dow, the architect from Midland, who said that the sharply defined seasons of Michigan were a great influence on his life; Marshall Fredericks, the sculptor, who said that influence comes from the artist's inner self, not his surroundings; Jerome Kamrowski, professor of painting at the University of Michigan, who talked painting techniques; and John Voelker of Ishpeming, who wrote three books under the pen name Robert Traver and said he "achieved almost complete anonymity" and then wrote "Anatomy of a Murder" and "you know what happened?"

Asked if he likes living in the Upper Peninsula, Voelker, a former justice of the Michigan Supreme Court, said "I love it." He said "I like to say I'm an expert fisherman, but the trout haven't discovered this. I like fishing because so many other things are not very important."

Voelker said that he had borrowed the "Anatomy" title, it was used by Burton in his "Anatomy of Melancholy" (which is much sexier than "Anatomy of a Murder") and that he was borrowing it again for his next book, "Anatomy of a Fisherman" which he's doing with Bob Kelly of the Time and Life staff.

He's also working on a novel, Voelker said, but he wouldn't divulge the plot as he said he hasn't told even his wife yet.

Stewart Woodfill, operator of the Grand Hotel, was a gracious commentator on the famed hotel with the "longest porch in the world," told of the great days of Chicago and St. Louis high society summer residence on the island and ten dances at the Grand, with Croquet, tennis and golf and "innocuous" punch. One Chicago dowager brought eight trunks of clothes for the summer and wore a different gown every night.

Mark Twain lectured at the Grand and was a regular guest with his daughter, who later had a home on the island with her symphony conductor husband, Ossip Gabrilowitsch of Detroit.

Hike Water Rate At Ford River

The Ford River Township Board and the Water Board met with water users Monday evening for the purpose of planning for funds to install larger mains in an area where new road construction will place the present mains under the shoulder of the road.

The mains are only about two feet deep in the area and there is a chance of freeze-ups. A six inch main would replace the present two inch main.

Majority of the water users present favored raising a flat rate for a period of time.

Because a large rate would impose a hardship, the Township Board placed a rate increase of $25 to each water customer effective Aug. 1 this year.

The current water rate is $35 per year, and the increase will bring the charge to $60. The rate must be paid in advance. The quarterly rate is $10 per quarter at present and would be increased to $16.25 per quarter.

The $25 increase will amount to a $2,200 income for improvement of the water system.

Should the water users not cooperate there would be but one choice: Operate the line until the cost is too great to keep maintained and then shorten the line until service cannot be used, said Supervisor Phil Miron.

State Employees Enjoy Outing At Wells State Park

Chapter 58 of the Michigan State Employee's Association was host at a rally and picnic at Wells State Park on Sunday, attended by 125 people who are members of MSEA and their families.

The State Association was represented by Wayne Gilmore of Gaylord, state President. John Doyle, executive Secretary of Lansing and John Groop of Marquette, director at large.

John Bell of Escanaba, director of Region Two, was general chairman of the outing. Bell said this "outing was a great success for the first endeavor of this kind" and plans are being made for a bigger and better outing in 1964.

If Delta County residents gave blood to the blood bank like these three men there would be no difficulty in maintaining the county's quota with the Badger Blood Bank, whose services are financed here by the Delta County Chapter, American Red Cross, and supported by volunteer donations of blood. Each of these men is starting his fifth gallon of blood donation with the visit of the bloodmobile here today, having given 16 donations each. Mrs. Betty Hamilton, Red Cross secretary, gives citations to, from left: Cecil Chase, 2215 Lake Shore Drive; Erland Myrvall, 1621 9th Ave. S., and Clinton Groos, Rte. 1, Gladstone. The bloodmobile is at the Jones School, Gladstone until 7 tonight, and at the Escanaba Area High School from 2:30 to 7:30 Wednesday and from 10 to 3 Thursday and walk-in donors are welcome. POLICE BENEFACTOR

HONOLULU (AP)—The board of supervisors for Hawaii County turned down Police Chief Anthony Paul's requests for new uniforms.

But the cops will get their new togs after all.

An anonymous benefactor has donated $10,000 to buy the 101-man Hawaii Island police force new brown-and-tan lightweight outfits to replace their hot olive drabs.

"We don't know who the donor is," said Glen Ada, Police Commission chairman, "but it's a fine gesture."

Gangland Offers $100,000 To Kill Joseph Valachi

WASHINGTON (AP)—The underworld has set a price of $100,000 on the head of Joseph Valachi, the informant who gave officials their best information on the structure of the syndicate which dominates the crime picture in the United States, government sources said today.

"We're going to keep him alive," one source said. "We don't know exactly what we are going to do with him, but we're going to keep him in a safe place."

The syndicate—to which Valachi gave the name "Cosa Nostra" meaning "our thing"—has noised it around the underworld that the man who kills Valachi for breaking the syndicate's blood oath of silence, will be paid $100,000, informants said.

Meanwhile, it also was learned that the Valachi testimony—which he spilled during a year of questioning—has led to more breakthroughs in the government's quest for information about the syndicate.

Other weak spots in the syndicate's chain are being tapped for information. Not only Valachi's cooperation, but also the Justice Department's increasing pressure on organized crime, is being credited here for a sudden increase in the number of talkative hoodlums.

Douglasses Split, Both Wed Again

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Mercedes Douglas plans to marry today—The day after her former husband, Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, married a girl 41 years his junior.

Mrs. Douglas divorced him six days ago.

Monday—as her husband's marriage to a 23-year-old government girl was making headlines—Mercedes Douglas came up with some news of her own: At 6 p.m. today, at the home of a friend, she would marry Robert B. Eichholz, 52, a Washington attorney.

Mrs. Douglas is 46.

Their sudden marriage plans came as a surprise to many—as did the marriage of the towering, white-thatched justice to a secretary whom he first met when she was a college coed.

The former Joan Carol Martin and Douglas were united in a church ceremony at Buffalo, N.Y.

The meeting was set for 3 p.m. Fern D. Baguidy, Haiti's ambassador to the OAS, asked for the meeting.

Baguidy charged Monday night that the exiles "came from the Dominican Republic."

The OAS council is empowered to act provisionally as a meeting of consultation of the American foreign ministers in cases of threats to the hemisphere's peace.

Matt N. Smith To Attend Graduate School Of Banking

Matt N. Smith, assistant executive vice president, Escanaba National Bank, will leave Aug. 18 for two weeks' attendance at The Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

Fair Is Busy Time For All 4-H Youth

The high quality of farm work among 4-H Club farm youth of the Upper Peninsula will again be emphasized at the U. P. State Fair, Aug. 13-18, although space continues to be a limiting factor in the number of entries to be exhibited.

One of the largest sections at the Fair, the 4-H Club department spread out through the exhibition building to the barns and stables in an impressive varied array of entries ranging from fragile evening clothes to purebred bulls.

Emil Fimbinger, Marquette, district extension agent, is superintendent of the 4-H Club Work department and Larry Bradford, Delta County 4-H agent, is assistant.

Mrs. Olive Sain of Marquette is superintendent of general exhibits assisted by William Pintal of Escanaba; Charles "Jack" Little of Chatham is 4-H Dairy superintendent, with K. J. Moilanen of Ewen and Lester Walcutt, Menominee, assistants.

Fair Week brings a busy schedule for the 4-H boys and girls—but they have been preparing and planning for this event for many months.

There is the judging of livestock, the model business meeting, the dress revue on Thursday, and other events such as the 4-H talent and the 4-H saddle show.

Judging of 4-H and Future Farmers of America fat cattle begins at 9:30 a. m. on the opening day of the Fair; and from then to the closing of the Fair on Sunday, Aug. 18, the youngsters will be busy with events that climax a busy year.

Divorcee Denies Ford Romance

MILAN, Italy (AP)—A blonde Italian divorcee, linked romantically to Henry Ford II by New York newspapers, says she and the auto tycoon are "just good friends and nothing else."

Mrs. Christina Austin told newsmen Monday:

"I met Henry Ford and his wife in Paris three years ago and I have seen them from time to time in New York."

Ford, 45-year-old president of Ford Motor Co., and his wife, Anne, 44, announced their separation over the weekend. They were married 23 years ago.

Mrs. Austin, divorced wife of the late William Austin, a former British naval officer, said she saw newspaper accounts of the separation before leaving New York for her native Milan Sunday. She said she comes to Milan every two months to visit her family. For the last 2 1/2 years Mrs. Austin has lived in New York.

The New York Daily Mirror said "it is no secret that Ford is romantically interested in her."

Mrs. Ford's whereabouts were not known.

Fair's Impact Told To Lions

The Upper Peninsula Fair means many things to many people, Ray LaPorte, Fair manager-director told the Escanaba Lions Club at their meeting last evening.

He told of the elderly couple who raised thousands of Gladiolus only to select a few spikes for exhibiting at the Fair. Winning a first prize gave them much satisfaction and pleasure. And there is the boy or girl in the 4-H program. A calf is bought, fed and cared for like a pet. At the Fair auction when these animals are sold, many a tear is shed as owner and animal is parted, LaPorte said.

The Fair has an economic impact on the county and especially Escanaba, he reported. Twenty-five thousand dollars in premiums are paid out as the exhibits are judged. This, along with other petty-cash disbursements amounts to $60,000. The cancelled checks show that many have been cashed and spent locally.

The Fair inspires competition between hobbyist and professional or businesses. This helps to stimulate and build up a business or industry such as the dairy and cattle industry. The sales at the first Fair auction amounted to $15,000. Sales are now up to $150,000, LaPorte reported.

The Fair board and its management is charged with the responsibility of promoting agriculture, industry and business. The entertainment, the shows and the concessions are the "icing on the cake." The "pitchmen" and entertainers are a part of the whole package which gives the Fair a holiday atmosphere which people enjoy, LaPorte added.

LaPorte said that the management must be prepared for problems and changes that take place which can not be foreseen. Headline entertainers can be delayed or fail to show because of transportation difficulties or other reasons. This can be a real headache because timing and schedules are very important to a successful Fair.

"This year's Fair is expected to be good," said LaPorte. "There will be many fine attractions in addition to two outstanding headliners in the persons of George Gobel and Brenda Lee."

In other business Mel Oslund, committee chairman reported on the Leader Dog program. Nick Bink reported on the championship fight of Pete Bosanic which will be held in Escanaba on Aug. 31.

Ann Landers

Scared By Nut

Dear Ann Landers: My wife has a close friend who, in my opinion, is a nut. This filbert is a strong believer in mental telepathy, which is all right with me, but it's NOT all right with me when she makes a nervous wreck out of my wife because of some of her far-out ideas.

Last night—or I should say this morning at 3:05 A. M.—the nut called my wife on the telephone and asked, "Are you O.K., Min?" Naturally my wife was scared out of her wits, getting a call at such an hour. We have a boy in the service and we thought something had happened to him.

The nut said, "I just had a dream that you were in a terrible accident and I'm so relieved to know you are O.K. Now I can sleep."

Well, maybe SHE could sleep, but my wife and I were up all night.

This isn't the first time she has scared my wife with her hocus focus. Please tell me what you think ought to be done?—MEL

Dear Mel: No friend calls at 3:05 A. M. to ask if "you're all right." There is something punitive about the woman's behavior and your wife should not hesitate to tell her friend that from now on she doesn't wish to hear any more on the subject.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 18 and leaving for college in September. I haven't dated much because my mother believes all boys are interested in only one thing. She has harped so long on the evils of sex that I'm sure she is mentally ill on the subject.

Recently I started to go with a fellow who is tops in every way. Wendell is two years ahead of me in school. The only thing my mother can find wrong with Wendell is that he is a junior at the college I plan to attend. She says I'm asking for trouble if I get interested in a hometown boy and then go off to college with him.

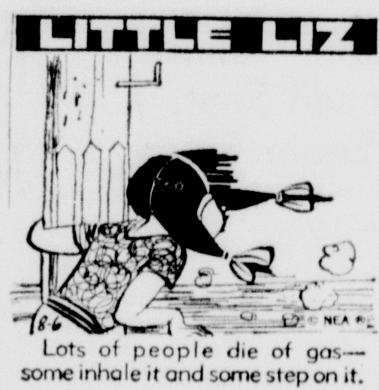

I'm a serious student and intend to get as much out of college as possible. I've always been trustworthy and her reasoning makes no sense to me. If you think Mother has a valid point, please tell me. If you think she's wrong, please tell HER so she'll get off my back.—LOTTIE

Dear Lottie: If a girl is going to goof off at college it doesn't matter if the boys are home grown or not. Your attitude toward schooling will determine how well you do. And your attitude sounds excellent.

The root of your problem appears in the last sentence of your first paragraph.

Dear Ann Landers: I don't know if that letter signed "Al's Mistress" came from Pittsburgh but there is an identical case here and I want to tell you what happened.

Eight days after your letter appeared in the Pittsburgh Press this couple invited several friends to a "hurry-up" wedding. We all knew these two have been sharing an apartment for years. Our group has been talking about it and laughing our heads off.

Even if that letter came from another city the situation was close enough so that at least one gal got the fellow to marry her—and darned fast, too. I say three cheers for you Annie old kid.—SIDELINE SAMMY

Dear Sammy: Thank you for those cheers. And now that they are married why don't you and your group talk about something else?

Confidential to CANT WIN FER LOSIN': Of course you can't. And why should you, with those alley cat tactics.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Smoking," enclosing with your request 10c in coin and read and write.

Church Suppers Branded Wrong

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—A Takoma Park, Md., church leader told a meeting of Seventh-Day Adventists Monday night that rummage sales and bingo to raise church funds are wrong. "Nowhere in Holy Scripture do we find a command or entreaty for the conduct of rummage sales, chicken suppers or bingo games to keep up the finances of the Christian church," Melvin E. Rees said. Rees, director of church development for the Seventh-Day Adventists' Union Conference, said that his denomination has supported itself through the practice of tithing, in which each church member gives 10 per cent of his income to the church. "God has a plan of tithing and free - will offerings which fully meets all the costs of evangelism and church expenses," he said. He addressed the West Pennsylvania Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists in the second week of the group's annual 11-day meeting at nearby Edgewood Grove.

In This Corner

with BILL FINLAN
(pinchhitting for vacationing Ray Crandall)

We have a softball tournament going in Escanaba . . . The District Class B and C tournaments are in progress, and a couple of dandy games have gone on record, especially in the Class B competition . . . Flat Rock managed to tip over Skinny's in the first game on Saturday night 4-3 . . . Then Sunday night Mead No. 1 trounced the Merchants 4-0.

Some people tend to look at the game of softball as a sort of sissy game, where "ball players" get their kicks, after they have failed to make a real baseball team, where the ball used is a real hard ball . . . Some people, uneducated as they are, look at the "big fat softball" and claim that anyone who can hold a bat up can poke the "pumpkin," and anyone can run the short bases.

However, fans, who know the game, and players, who have played softball, will tell you a different story . . . That so-called pumpkin doesn't come in there slowly. Especially when guys like Todd Butler of Mead No. 1, Bob Corriveau of the Merchants and Bill Smith of Flat Rock are firing at you . . . They throw as fast as hardball pitchers on teams in the area . . . What's more they stand some 14 feet closer to the batter, giving the batter little time to decide where the ball is coming, and whether or not he should take a swing . . . Todd Butler, in fashioning his no-hitter in Class B tournament action Sunday night, struck out 14 of the Merchant batters, the same team that had beaten his team three times earlier this year.

The ball game is fast, and some of these players have been around a long time. Real hitters like Butler, Roger Miron, Wally Flath and Bill Smith can break up a ball game in a hurry . . . Young kids like Con Zagodzinski, who can stretch singles into doubles and triples, and Fran Gravelle, with the fastest pair of short stop hands around, are adding color and speed to the game . . . The ball park, Memorial Field, is in good shape for the tournament, and the Class C and B games will get better as the week progresses . . . Escanaba should be able to advance some fine representative teams to regional tournaments after this week.

'Where From Here' Chief Tiger Topic

DETROIT (AP)—The favorite topic of conversation among the Detroit Tigers is not "what are we doing wrong and how can we improve?" It's "where will we be playing next year?"

"We talk about it all the time, admitted one Detroit front liner. "At least six of us could be traded."

Colts Turn Spoiler, Down SF Giants 6-5

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the time of the year some of the lesser knowns decide to turn spoiler.

For example, take Woodeshick and Warwick, which may sound like a vaudeville team, but who amuse the San Francisco Giants not at all.

In fact, there was only gloom in the Giants dressing room after the Colts Hal Woodeshick and Carl Warwick finished their act at Houston Monday night.

It wasn't a standard performance. Each did something he either didn't want to do or wasn't expected to do. But when it was all over, they were the key figures in Houston's 6-5 victory over the Giants in the only game scheduled in the major leagues.

Woodeshick, a relief pitcher, gave up a home run to Willie Mays, something relief pitchers don't like to do. But he came out of it the winner.

And Warwick, a light-hitting outfielder, was inserted for defensive purposes in the eighth when Houston had a 4-2 lead. But he wound up the offensive star, driving in the winning run with a two-out single in the ninth.

The loss spoiled the Giants' hopes of making up a little ground on National League-leading Los Angeles and dropped them back to a tie for second with St. Louis, five games off the pace.

The Colts, leading 4-2, appeared to be on the way to an easy victory when starter Don Nottebart ran into trouble in the eighth.

Willie McCovey led off with his 33rd homer of the season and Mays followed with a single. Woodeshick came on, making his 29th appearance of the season. A single by Orlando Cepeda and a Colt error let in the tying run, but Woodeshick struck out the last two men to end the inning.

He struck out two more in the top of the ninth before Mays crashed his 28th homer into the left centerfield stands for a 5-4 Giants lead.

LONDON (AP)—One of the best and youngest, American track teams split up today, with important international experience tucked away for the future and four victories in the record book.

John Pennel of Miami, Fla., who has snapped the world pole vault record six times this year, and three times in a little more than three weeks, set his latest mark, 16 feet, 10 1/4 inches, on Monday on the final day of the two-day meet with Britain.

It broke his mark of 16-8 3/4 set in the same stadium July 13, and bettered by a fraction of an inch his showing in Warsaw July 26.

The Yanks got off to a bad start on the four-meet European trip, and had to battle back to salvage a 119-114 victory over the Soviet Union in Moscow, but then they got rolling.

They took the Poles 125-83 and West Germany 141-82 before coming to London.

The U.S. coach, Payton Jordan, shuffled his forces throughout the four meets, with an eye to getting maximum international experience for the team.

"This was a real young team—half of them had never been abroad before," Jordan said. "They got better as they went along, and the young fellows got running experience that will be valuable at the Russian meet next year and the Tokyo Olympics."

Robert Hayes and Henry Carr, who hold the sprint world records, improved with every race. So did middle distance man Tom O'Hara.

About half the team members are to fly home late Tuesday. Two small groups are going to Sweden and Norway, another to Jamaica and a fourth to Romania.

The American girls, humiliated in Moscow, got better every time out.

They lost to the British girls—as they had lost at every other stop—but managed to win four of the 11 events on their program here.

In the windup of the British meet, the Americans swept to 1-2 finishes in four events and took the mile relay.

Frank Covelli won the javelin for the other American win, while the British took the 3,000-meter steeplechase, the three miles, triple jump and shot put.

Baseball Picnic Set For Tomorrow

The annual Recreation Baseball Picnic will be held at Ludington Park tomorrow at noon. All boys who played in the beginners or junior league are eligible to attend. The menu will consist of hamburgers, ice cream and pop.

Boys who haven't paid the 50-cent fee may turn in their money to Paul Vardigan at the park before noon tomorrow.

British reignited today as tennis champion of Europe for the first time in 30 years—and the fans started talking again of the golden days of Fred Perry.

Mike Sangster, the 22-year-old star who revels in a tight situation, took Britain to a 3-2 victory over Sweden Monday and a place in the interzone finals of the Davis Cup. He defeated Sweden's Ulf Schmidt 7-5, 6-2, 9-11, 3-6, 6-3 in the last match of the European final.

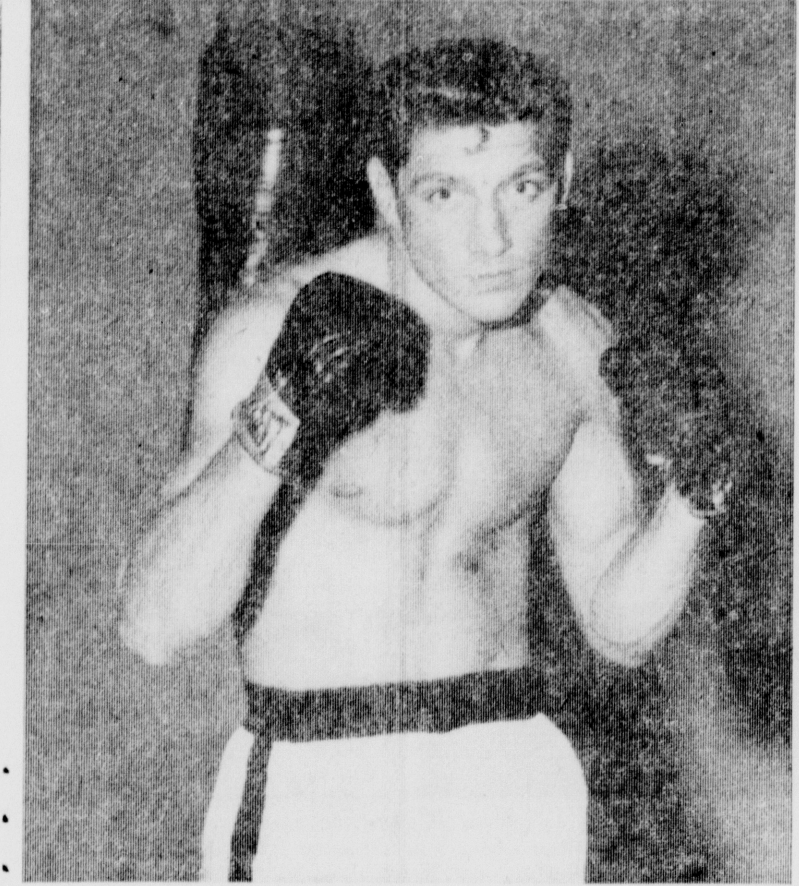

The last time Britain won the European Zone was in 1933 when Perry was in his prime. Perry and his team went on to win the Davis Cup three times running.

British tennis officials began tackling the problem of finding a venue for the next series. That will be in Britain against the winner of the American Zone—either the United States or Mexico, although the winner has to overcome Venezuela.

Unbeaten Boxers Clash In State Title Battle

By RAY CRANDALL
Press Sports Editor

Pete Bosanic, undefeated Manistique boxer, will make his first 10-round professional start in Escanaba Saturday night, Aug. 31, against Jim Davis of Detroit for the Michigan middleweight championship.

Approval of the fight for the vacant state crown was announced today by David Gudelsky of Muskegon, chairman of the State Athletic Board of Control.

Bosanic, who sharpened his fists tools by winning six Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves titles before turning pro last spring, will enter the ring at the 3,000 seat Escanaba Area High School gymnasium with six straight professional victories under his belt.

The 21-year-old Manistique Mauler, tabbed by national boxing observers as a "young Tony Zale," will see action once before giving Escanaba area fans their first look at a professional bout in two decades. He faces John Blair of Akron, Ohio, in a preliminary to the Kenney Lane-Paulie Armstead lightweight championship fight in Saginaw Aug. 19.

Bosanic will come to Escanaba on Aug. 29 to taper off his training program. Announcement of the preliminary card will be made by Ludwig in the near future.

Davis Undefeated
Bosanic's opponent is one of the top ranked young prospects in the country. Davis, 24, had a long and successful amateur career, winning three Detroit Golden Gloves crowns, and has won 12 straight pro starts, seven of them by knockouts.

The new Escanaba Area High School gymnasium will be in use for the first time for an athletic event. The gym seats 2,500 in side-court bleachers and an additional 500 ringside seats will be installed for the bouts.

Tickets will be placed on advance sale throughout the Upper Peninsula and will be available Wednesday. In Escanaba, advance tickets will be on sale at Gust Aspi's and Norm's Super Market on Stephenson Ave.

Mickey Mantle Says Knee Still Hurting

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle was ready for limited duty today as the New York Yankees hit the road for a 14-game trip, but the $100,000-a-year slugger is still ailing and still faces the possibility of post-season surgery.

Before he and the Yanks set out on the trip that will take them to Washington, Los Angeles, Chicago and Boston, Mantle was asked if he thought surgery would be necessary on his ailing left knee.

Mickey hesitated a moment, then replied: "I don't know. It might. I just don't know."

The Yankee slugger has been out of action since breaking a bone in his left foot in Baltimore June 5.

"It's hurting yet," he said of his knee. "I still can't play. I hope maybe in a week, but I just don't know."

Earnings Show Rise In AMC

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. reported Monday its earnings for the first nine months of its fiscal year were 12.6 per cent higher than for the same period a year ago, despite a third quarter lower than last year's.

Net sales for the nine months were a record $910,161,241—up 4.9 per cent over the same period of 1962. They brought earnings of $14,042,522—or $1.81 a share—up 12.6 per cent from last year's figures.

The company reported net earnings of $11,499,339—or 62 cents a share—on sales of $300,310,669 in the quarter ended June 30.

This was down from earnings of $12,161,123—or 66 cents a share—on sales of $303,150,839 in the June quarter of 1962, but up from earnings of $10,297,586 in the second quarter of fiscal 1963.

The drop in June quarter earnings from a year ago came from a drop in Rambler American sales, said Richard E. Cross, chairman, and Roy Albemethy, president.

Their statement said Rambler Classic and luxury Ambassador volumes were "substantially ahead" of a year ago. Total Rambler sales set a record for July.

Rambler sales to dealers for the nine months of the fiscal year started Oct. 1 set world-wide records with a total of 418,770, up from 398,141 a year ago.

Teachers Cited For Beating Boy

DETROIT (AP)—Two school teachers, both divorcees, were charged with felonious assault Monday in the alleged flogging of the 13-year-old son of one of the two.

Police said the boy was beaten Sunday in the front yard of one of the women and was saved from further lashing with a home-whip only by the intervention of neighbors.

Mrs. Catherine Trebing, 33, the mother, and a neighbor, Mrs. Edith Bates, 37, both grade school teachers in suburban Southgate, pleaded innocent in Southgate Municipal Court. They were released in $500 bond for examination Thursday.

The boy, James Trebing, 13, child of Mrs. Trebing, was treated at a hospital for what police called welts on his back, neck, arms, sides and face. David was placed in the custody of neighbors.

Det. Sgt. Frank Toures of the Southgate police said David first was beaten with a belt by his

Mayor Doesn't Appear For Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Donald Netlow of River Rouge, Mich., failed to show Monday for trial on a disorderly conduct charge stemming from an argument with a taxicab driver.

Criminal Court Judge Edward Caiazza signed a warrant for the arrest of Netlow, but a disorderly conduct charge does not entail possibility of extradition.

Netlow has been free on $25 bail after pleading innocent. He declined to pay a $2.85 cab fare. An argument followed. Netlow contended the cab driver drove him around unnecessarily and he didn't owe that much.
